

Ron Schott, Arizona Technology Council

Contact: rschott@aztechcouncil.org

Tel: (602) 343-8324 x109

Ron Schott is currently Executive Emeritus at the Arizona Technology Council. Prior to joining the Technology Council, Ron completed two exciting careers in Corporate America.

He retired from America Online, Inc. in 2003. While at AOL, Ron was Director of IT for AOL's Member Services Group. He established a Development Center in Tucson, AZ responsible for Application Development, Knowledge Management Systems, MIS Systems, Web Development, Quality Assurance, Performance & Stress Testing that supported all of the AOL US and outsourced call centers with over 6,000 agents. His responsibilities spanned Data and Voice infrastructures, systems and applications.

Prior to joining AOL, Ron held Senior Management positions at IBM which spanned Operating Systems Development, Development Laboratory Technical & Management covering many technologies, industries and disciplines. He was also responsible for Technical Sales at IBM with major IBM customers in AZ and the Southwest Region.

Ron serves on the University of Arizona College of Business MIS Industry Advisory Council and the College of Engineering Industry Advisory Council. He is also a member of the Arizona State University College of Engineering Entrepreneurship Advisory Council. Ron serves as Executive in residence for the ASU Corporate Leadership Program.

He has been an Arizona resident for over 19 years.